Principal's Message principal@olmcsunbury.catholic.edu.au

Dear Parents

This week I have been fortunate to attend the VACPSP (Victorian Association of Catholic Primary School Principals) conference in Lorne. The theme of the conference is Hope – For Now and Whatever Lies Ahead. This is such a fitting concept after the past 2 years and is a great time for reflection. With numerous world threatening events taking place – ranging from tensions between the superpowers, to climate change, emerging technologies, viruses and an epidemic of mental health issues, it is sometimes hard to have hope, particularly for our young people.

As we begin to emerge from the shadow of COVID 19 and the huge consequences this has held for educators around the globe and more specifically in our Victorian Catholic Primary Schools, and as the world is placed on “code red for humanity” by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) new report, it is time for us to come together to hear from amazing world class experts on how our role in creating and developing hope in our students and our school communities can help to change the world!

One of the core principles of an emerging new time is the resurgence of HOPE. Now is the greatest time in the world's history where hope and positive change will be the ONLY way forward. More than ever, the leaders in our Catholic Primary Schools are charged with working together in humanity to develop hope in our students, optimism in our communities and the understanding that together we can create a solution driven future for all. Learning how to make a positive difference in the world is how children can develop confidence, optimism and hope.

As Catholic school leaders, we know leadership starts from within and we must connect regularly and reflect on our mission, beliefs, values, gifts, strengths and limitations. The conference invites this reflection supporting our personal, spiritual and professional growth as we pray, learn and engage as colleagues. We have had a number of guest speakers and I would like to share some of their messages

Kath Koschel is the founder of Kindness Factory, a global not for profit movement which inspires ordinary people to do ordinary things. A former professional cricketer and Iron Man competitor, Kath has defied all medical prognoses by teaching herself to walk on three separate occasions. Despite facing other serious personal, mental and physical setbacks, her resilience allowed her not only to overcome these challenges, but also see good in the world when most others couldn't. Kath's key messages were around gratitude and kindness which fits beautifully with our school connection with the Resilience Project. Something to think about: “You actions don't change mine” “The world is changed by your example not by your opinion” “Don't let the outside noise dictate who you are”

Our Catholic Identity

We come to the end of Harmony Week this week, and it has been an incredibly timely reminder in light of the tragic world events, that ‘Everyone Belongs’! Our island nation is blessed with great diversity and with that brings the riches that each cultural tradition brings to us. Within our school we have a multicultural range of cultural backgrounds with staff and students having heritage from countries including Canada, China, Malta, Ireland, Italy, Libya, India, Greece, Germany, New Zealand and Sri Lanka. Amongst many other things, two of my favourite riches that come from our multicultural society are music and of course food! When we consider the different styles of beats, tempos and even instruments within music given to us from different cultures, we are able to use our ears to enter into a new world! To add to that, in light of not really being able to travel overseas in recent times, how fortunate are we to allow our taste buds to travel to many different worldly destinations! Here in Sunbury we have a growing range of different cuisines to sample and support. How about this weekend, in celebration of Harmony Week, as a family venture out and try out one of our local restaurants that you’ve been meaning to try for a long time! Enjoy the family time together celebrating the treasures of our multicultural nation, oh and leave your passports at home!

Welcome back Families

There is something that we have been missing over the last couple of years, and that is community spirit! It’s the glue that binds us all together and props us up when we feel a little low. Here at OLMC, we are seeing a gradual growth of that community spirit in the return of parents back on site.

On Tuesday the Prep rooms were abuzz with excitement, and enlivened by the Holy Spirit, when for the first time the parents joined their children in their classrooms for their Prep Family Faith Evening. Focusing on prayer, the parents and children talked about how prayer can be like a beautiful conversation with somebody who loves us dearly. Using lots of vibrant colours, the families then created their own Pope Francis-inspired Prayer hand to give us some options of who we might pray for. Each family also took home a personalised holding prayer cross to help them focus on prayer in their own prayer spaces. We finished the evening with the Prep students singing ‘These Hands’, a song by Andrew Chinn that reminds us of the power of our hands, our hearts and our voices to do continue Jesus’ great work in our lives! Thank you to all the families who attended this evening, and we look forward to welcoming the Year 1&2 families to our Family Faith Evening in Term 2.

Lock it in:

Friday 8th April- Holy Week Liturgy on the Green- All Parents Welcome!

Saturday 16th April- Bunnings Sausage Sizzle. Volunteers Needed!!! Please contact Nelson.

Gospel Reflections

As we delve deeper into this Season of Lent, Sunday's Gospel reading is Jesus' very well-known parable of the Prodigal Son. It's the one where a man had two sons. The eldest was loyal to his dad and worked hard to uphold the family business. The youngest, who wanted an easier way out and demanded from his father his share of his inheritance- an inheritance he was only entitled to upon his father's passing! Wasting this money, the son comes to his senses and seeks forgiveness from his father, asking him to no longer regard him as a son, but instead one of his hired hands. The father refuses to hear anything of it! Instead, he welcomes his son with open arms, dresses him in his rightful attire, puts an expensive ring on his finger and throws a party in his honour. Much to the dismay of the eldest son, the father is challenged by the big brother, who has always stuck by his father's side. It is the words of the father that brings home Jesus' teaching: "Your brother was dead and has come to life, he was lost and is found!"

More appropriately, and in our present times, this parable has been referred not as the Prodigal Son, but rather the Forgiving Father. In doing so, it shifts the key focus from a sinful and disrespecting son to the unconditional love of the Forgiving Father. Jesus implores his listeners to apply this characteristic of the father to God our heavenly father. In Lent and beyond, the parable of the Forgiving Father is one of the most beautiful images of the unending, 'no holds barred' love that God offers all of us. I know, and speaking first hand, there are times when we feel that what we have done is not deserving of someone else's love and forgiveness. This image of an ever-loving God is a hit-you-in-the-face reminder that we are all entitled to love and forgiveness...should we seek it! Not one of us is condemned, and Jesus reminds us of this through his protagonists in the story. Whilst the father in the story is obviously a male, we know that these qualities and characteristics are not unique to males alone and very much shared by the women in our lives. So why don't we just for today, rename the story to the Forgiving Parent! When you consider this, if we truly believe that each of us are created in God's image and likeness, we all have the responsibility to be God to and for one another. So, whilst we can desire the unconditional, God-like love and forgiveness from those we have hurt, (as the younger son did), so too are we called to offer our love and forgiveness to those who have done wrong by us. Forgiving is not forgetting. It is quite the opposite. It is a reminder of what one has done wrong, where forgiveness shines the light on the path towards redemption! Who is it in your life that might need this redemption? Who is it that you might empower to come back to life?

May the unconditional love of God enlighten our lives!
